Wenzel Furmint 2009 Burgenland - Austria
Furmint is not your common everyday grape varietal, and when we do see it is generally blended and made as sweet wine – Tokaji from Hungary. This comes from across the border in Austria and is fresh, fiery (spicy) and textural. It has some grunt and power and has a quirky feel of Gruner Veltliner and yet a bit richer. Well worth a glass...and another!

Domaine Bachelet-Monnot 1er Cru 'La Fussiere' 2008 Maranges - Burgundy
These guys are relatively new in Burgundy, which is unique, most wine estates/producers are passed down from generation to generation. Not only new, but, they are the estate to watch... amazing value – mineral char oak and pure earthy fruit. It has a seamless feel with charm and finesse. You don't get better than this at the price.

Our selection

Domaine Madeloc Pierre Gaillard Cirera 2006 Banyuls - France
Banyuls is a fortified Grenache from the south of France, Roussillon - not as muscle-bound as Port, but more accessible and forthright. This has sweet rancio (nutty) characters, raisined fruit-cake-like flavours. There is a chocolate undertone and a slight bruised plum fruit feel...very delicious and a perfect match with chocolate-based dessert.
